INFORMATION FOR VOTERS

What is Planning Permission?

Most forms of development for new buildings or extensions, mining or engineering operations or change of use of land or buildings will require some sort of planning consent often gained through the planning application process.

What are Development Plans?

Planning applications must be determined in accordance with the relevant planning policies within the local development plan for that area by the Local Planning Authority. This includes Neighbourhood Plans that have been brought into force.

The Local Planning Authority for Addingham is City of Bradford Metropolitan District Council (CBMDC) and the relevant Development Plan already covering Addingham is made up of the saved Replacement Unitary Development Plan Policies, the Bradford Core Strategy Development Plan Document (adopted July 2017) and the Bradford Waste Management Development Plan Document (adopted October 2017)

What is Neighbourhood Planning?

Local people can now have a direct and active say in helping to shape development in the area in which they live through Neighbourhood Planning, introduced via the Localism Act of 2011. The process is governed by this act as well as the Neighbourhood Planning (General) Regulations 2012 (as amended) (the 2012 Regulations).

In order to produce a Neighbourhood Development Plan, an area must first be formally designated as a Neighbourhood Area by the Council. A relevant body, for example, a Town Council, a Parish Council or a Neighbourhood Forum (groups in areas without Town or Parish Councils), can submit a request and a proposed boundary map to the Council - this is known as a Neighbourhood Area Application.

Addingham Parish Council submitted such an application in January 2015 that was approved by Bradford Council in June 2015. Since this time the Neighbourhood Plan has been produced and successfully progressed through Examination and is now ready to proceed to Referendum. Details of the Neighbourhood Plan's journey through production and consultation can be found below.

The Addingham Neighbourhood Plan has been prepared by the Addingham Parish Council and covers the same spatial area as the Parish Council boundary. The area is shown on the map submitted with the Information Statement.

Plan preparation took place between 2015 and 2018 with publicity, community engagement activities and consultation events together with a range of evidence gathering. CBMDC provided detailed feedback on a draft version of the plan in 2018.

The Regulation 14 Consultation Draft was produced by the Parish Council and issued for a 6 week public consultation during July and August 2018.

The draft neighbourhood plan together with the required supporting documentation was submitted to CBMDC in October 2018 (in line with Regulation 15 of the 2012 Regulations) and subsequently published for a formal period of consultation between 14th November 2018 and 16th January 2019.

CBMDC engaged Andrew Freeman to carry out the Independent Examination of the Neighbourhood Plan in line with Regulation 17 of the 2012 Regulations. The Independent Examination of the plan took place during May/June 2019 and the final report was issued at the end of July 2019. The Examiner recommended that, subject to a number of modifications, the Plan should proceed to Referendum.

Local communities may decide what their Neighbourhood Plan covers as long as the Basic Conditions are met and the planning policies contained within relate to the use and development of land. It is also important that the plans do not promote less development than set out in the Local Plan (In Addingham's case, this is Bradford Core Strategy Development Planning Document).

The Basic Conditions must:

- have regard to national planning policy and advice contained in guidance issued by the Secretary of State;
- contribute to the achievement of sustainable development;

- be in general conformity with strategic policies in the development plan for the local area;
- be compatible with EU Obligations and the European Convention on Human Rights;
- meet prescribed conditions and comply with prescribed matters; and

Regulation 32 of the 2012 Regulations prescribes a further Basic Condition for a neighbourhood plan. This requires that the making of the neighbourhood development plan does not breach the requirements of Chapter 8 of Part 6 of the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2017.

The Referendum question will ask those eligible to vote for Ward Councillor and Parish Council elections in Addingham if they want the Local Planning Authority, CBMDC, to use the Neighbourhood Plan to help determine Planning Applications in Addingham.

Should the Neighbourhood Plan be successful at Referendum, returning a majority “yes” vote, it will become part of the Statutory Development Plan for the area and be used to help determine planning applications in the Addingham Neighbourhood Planning Area.
