Observation on Policy INDP13: Protecting and Enhancing Biodiversity This policy (and policy INDP12: Protecting Ilkley’s Landscape Character) make no reference to a Tree Strategy for Ilkley. Bradford Council has a statement headed “Trees and woodland on public land” and lists some of the many benefits that trees provide and its aim to plant the “right trees in the right place”. But the Council seems to have no explicit and holistic strategy for trees in the same way that many other councils do – ranging from city councils to small parish ones. I suggest that INDP includes the aim to create a Tree Strategy for Ilkley which is developed and actioned in conjunction with local groups and volunteers. In a modern approach we might expect more emphasis on canopy cover and we would seek help from a local university to quantify this and set targets.
