

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: 07 December 2015 12:22
To: Planning Policy
Subject: Core Strategy modifications

Hi there,

Simply, the point is not about how many modifications schedules you can propose, the real issue is about these detrimental and destructive developments proposals are not welcome by the vast majority of our community.

In fact, if democracy were to take place, we should have a local referendum on this issue. We are going to lose green fields and spaces, adding to the already congested roads. These proposals are simply toxic to our environment and our community and are not going to be a long term solution, since even more and more houses will swallow up the remaining green spaces.

Whatever you propose, we are going to be forced to have these unwanted developments. Firstly, all empty properties in and around Bradford should be made habitable before considering any further developments.

Everyone knows that developments within Bradford city area is not going to happen because developers cannot make a profit. So the surrounding areas are suffering because of the greedy developers don't want to build homes within Bradford city and no one wants to live within the city. Why not develop more homes within Bradford itself minimizing commuting and making Bradford a more desirable place to live and work. That would be a real development and a long term solution before it is too late.

Regards
Mrs & Mrs Gale Addingham